Widely Unknown: The Tennis Journey of a Smart Mouth Punk

By Gene Hamilton

Widely Unknown is a book based on one simple idea; the vast majority of people who play tennis do not attain fame or wealth as a result of their play, but they do have the opportunity to reap many valuable rewards. This idea is illustrated through the tennis adventures of the author, who has played, taught, officiated, and written about the game over a 70 year span. He has found his tennis experiences to be frequently funny, sometimes thought provoking, and occasionally sad, but almost always meaningful.

In the Shadow of Legends: The Lenny Simpson Story

By Lenny Simpson

With Bethany Bradsher

When a curious five-year-old Lenny Simpson finally convinced his mother to let him visit the mysterious tennis court behind his house in Wilmington, N.C., he walked through the gates of Dr. Hubert Eaton’s “black country club,” and his life was transformed. From that first day, when he met the great Althea Gibson and she gave him his first tennis racket, to the years of tournaments and training under the guidance of black tennis giants Dr. Eaton and Dr. R. Walter Johnson, to a meaningful friendship with the legendary Arthur Ashe, Lenny Simpson walked an extraordinary path in the company of greatness. His incredible story is marked by determination, vision, and a commitment to upholding the legacy of those who inspired him along the way.

Tennis in North Carolina
Celebrating Our History
By Tim Noonan

Published in honor of the North Carolina Tennis Foundation's 50th anniversary, Tennis in North Carolina tells the story of the game in the Old North State from the earliest sand courts of the late 19th century to the busiest league action of the 21st.

The book was written by well-known author and former ATP player, Tim Noonan. The NC Tennis Foundation Editorial Committee, which included Cy King, Billy Trott, Judy Utley and Kelly Gaines, spent countless hours guiding and reviewing text, selecting images, and advising on design and layout.

A limited number of the NC Tennis History Books remain. If you are interested in receiving one, please contact Kelly Lombardino at lombardinokelly@nctennis.com.
